

ANDY DELLER

Senior PGA Professional

Born and bred in Luton, Andy was introduced to golf by his dad at the age of twelve and quickly developed a love for the sport.

After college, he was offered a role at Stockwood Park Golf Centre, where in 2008, he undertook the 3 year PGA Foundation Degree in Golf Studies through Birmingham University to become a fully qualified professional.

Other places of work include Old Joes Driving Range in Sudbury and St Neots Golf Club, before moving to Luton Hoo Hotel, Golf & Spa in 2017.

Andy's main passion is to coach and develop the abilities of golfers of all handicaps, whether they are new to golf or more seasoned. He has delivered numerous lessons to men, women, juniors and seniors and has attended a course to teach disabled golfers.

For 4 years, he was a lead coach for the Bedfordshire County Academy Programme, working with juniors from across the county and providing organised lessons in order to improve the future stars. Andy has also taught in many schools, especially across Luton, to encourage children to take up the sport from a young age.

Andy's individualistic approach and friendly demeanour allows you to get the most out of your game through structured range or playing lessons covering all aspects of the sport.

Individual and group lessons are available.
